has helped to send some Comfort and Happiness to the brave Sailors and Soldiers of the British Empire, fighting to uphold Liberty, Justice, Honour and Freedom in the Great War.

The underlying motive of the "Overseas Club" is to promote the unity of British subjects the world over. Its chief objects are:

- (i) To help one another.
- (ii) To render substantial service to our Country.
- (iii) To draw together in the bonds of sympathy and friendliness the people of the world over.
- (iv) To maintain our Empire's supremacy upon the globe.

If we find we have our Fatherland in peril,
And to our children will be passed on this,
This is our chance, this our duty,
And that our Fatherland has won, it is ours!"

The underlying motive of the "Overseas Club" is to promote the unity of British subjects the world over. Its chief objects are:

- (1) To help one another.
- (2) To render industrial service to our Country.
- (3) To draw together in the bonds of friendship and brotherly love the people of the world over.
- (4) To maintain our Empire's supremacy upon the globe.

If we have one from our Fatherland in every land, we are children who are united in spirit. This is our motto: "We are one." And that our Fatherland has said: "It is true!" (Blessings be on them.)
